As a local resident who has friends living nearby this building as well as being a daily car user and pedestrian on long lane from moldgreen I am opposing this request. As the building is in a mainly highly populated residential area I have a concern about its suitability to the neighbouring homes, the impact on local residents, parking and highway safety.

Whilst this building has been a local public house previously there were not many cars or visitors, therefore this uplift in visitors to use the building as a religious building is worry that it will cause both people noise and traffic noise and disturbance.

There is Insufficient parking for its current visitors and public parking spaces on the roadside nearby are already causing local residents a nightmare.

The parking when the current worshipping is in place is appalling. Pavement parking, blocking drives, dangerous parking on junctions, parking close to residents cars so that they can't manoeuvre out. This happens regularly and the council need to visit at different times of the day during the full week to get the full highway picture of the current challenges. Local residents all have cars and there are already parking challenges for them to park on the street.

The junction that it is on is already dangerous for pedestrians who have no pedestrian crossing and as it's on a busy school run you will often see parents and children trying to navigate the roads inbetween badly and condensed volume of parked cars on a very busy traffic highway.

I am also concerned about potential noise Inside and outside the building and disturbance to residents who live nearby. These concerns should be addressed and the impact to residents who live work and enjoy their homes cannot be ignored. I live near to a local club and the impact to residents is dreadful. Noise from people, cars, building doors, horns papping and car doors slamming parking, engines running causes so much distress and anxiety.

If the building is already being used for the reasons stated in this planning request then this needs to be taken into account as a retro planning request which surely puts the applicant in break of current planning rules.
