I live round the corner on Church Street. I've seen the comments of objection. I think it would be best for planning and highways officers to come and see for themselves that there is no driveways being blocked, there is no obstruction going on, the marshals are out guiding any drivers to suitable locations. The application itself is proposing improvements e.g. to have two Friday prayer times, but if officers consider one would be more suitable then I don't think this will be a problem either. The real congestion happens throughout the day around the Post Office and One Stop store, plus at peak times (9am and 5pm) and also on football match days! The core operating hours are outside school start and end times. I simply do not see the issues that are being written in the comments and if there is the odd car parked incorrectly should that justify the rest of the local community from not having a local mosque - no instead the driver will be educated not to do something like that again. Even the local PCSO has never raised any issues with the centre. The application should definitely be approved. Today a passer-by said we don't want a mosque in this area, and when he was asked why, his reply was because we just don't want a mosque anything else would be ok. So this is the real crux, it's anti-Muslim hatred and the application should be assessed on it's technical merit and discussed with the client to overcome any shortfalls which I'm sure can be addressed.
