It's shown that mining remediation drilling has been carried out by Geoinvestigate. I can tell you that I live next to the proposed development, and have a lear view of the site. The drilling work would take days to complete, and I've not seen any work carried out. I've spoken to another neighbour that travels past the site several times each day, and he's not seen any drilling being done. I don't know how the applicants have got "proof" of the work being carried out, and I think someone should carry out a detailed investigation into whether the required has been done, because we don't see how it can have been done.
