Address: Ingfield Barn Inghead lane Thurstonland Huddersfield

About the application

Application number: 2026/92523
What is the application for?:	Permission in principle for erection of one dwelling
Address of the site or building:	land off, Ing Head Lane, Thurstonland, Huddersfield, HD4 6XG
Postcode:

User comments

Type of comment: An objection
Do you wish your comments to be published on the website anonymously?	No
We are writing to oppose the above planning application. We have lived here for eight years and the people who we bought the house from lived here for thirty five years. At no time has there been any vehicular access from Inghead Lane. It is private land with a public footpath running from top to bottom of it. There are currently seven house doors opening directly onto the lane. The lane is only a lane as we fenced it off as we have dogs, prior to that it was open land ie: the garden. The refuse wagon cannot fit between the buildings at the top of the lane so where will the construction vehicles enter the site? There isn't any mains drainage, where will the septic tank be sited and where will the soak away be? The building would be directly overlooking neighbouring properties making the area oppressive, dark and overbearing spoiling a green belt area. I would strongly suggest a site visit to see if the small area can accommodate a house, access, parking, outdoor space and a septic tank.	