i think it will damage the landscape of our beautiful area and also alot of animals homes will be destroyed ie dears fawns rabbits foxes etc also we have only got rid of one building site after all the works that have been done on estate and that was really disrupting and noisy and now you want to put another one in and not let us residents in the area get any peace and quiet no? Or is that really to much to ask for also our drains are bad enough as it is with out adding more outflow to them so all in all i think its not been really taught true.
