

Matter 25 -Monitoring

Issue – Does the Plan set out a robust monitoring framework?

a) – e) HVV Response

Without doubt.

We agree with the argument mooted by KCAN that the plan should be rolling rather than fixed. A 15-year period, in our view is too long. A more realistic approach would be to have policy aims and then using a fan graph or a “cap and collar” approach rather than fixed, absolute targets. A rolling plan, capable of responding to feedback changed circumstances and monitoring, would be far deliverable and would be more realistic.